

New York City

July 18, 2006

Artwork By

Weekly cultural stimuli in your inbox

1 Sign up

2 Get Flavorpill

3 Go out

Enter your email:

☐

Flavorpill does not buy or rent emails, and does not spam (privacy policy).

You are here: Flavorpill NYC Home > Issue #319

Visual Arts: Opening

Creative Time: Strange Powers

when: Wed 7.19 (6pm)

where: 64 (64 E 4th St, 212.206.6674)

price: FREE

details: Event Info

Creative Time has brought New York public art events ranging from Julian LaVerdiere's poignant 9/11 memorial Tribute in Light to Vik Muniz's playful skyline-shaping Clouds. Now comes an exhibition boiling over with spells, séances, and the occasional apparition. Disturbing a reportedly haunted space, Strange Powers features the work of over 20 artists divining inspiration from the spirit world. The show's potent brew includes Jim Lambie's Psychedelic Soul Stick, Anne Collier's images of artists' auras, and a psychic investigation by video artists Sophie Calle and Fabio Balducci. Additionally, guests attending tonight's opening will find Christian Cummings consulting his ouija board to create a series of otherworldly drawings.

- MB

Note: The opening party will move from the exhibition space to B-Bar (40 E 4th St, 212.475.2220) after 7pm. Strange Powers is open through Sun 9.17.

« Back to Issue #319