Don't Miss The Boat.

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 2008

If you're at PULSE near the end of the day today you'd be crazy not to catch the latest Creative Time project, Matthew Buckingham's beautiful Muhheakantuck: Everything has a Name, now showing on . . . NY Water Taxi! It's an amazing piece of work. The juxtaposition of the present and the past, and the aerial view on the screen and the water level view from the boat is almost unbearable. I mean that in a good way. More later, but I saw it last night, and it's running @ 7 & 8 PM today, tomorrow, and next weekend. I didn't want you to miss the boat.
